

which was arranged in one corner of the front parlor. The maid of honor was Miss Hattie Sitter of Milwaukee. The bridesmaids were Miss Sadie Allen, sister of the bride, and Miss Bertha Greenbaum, sister of the groom. The best man was the groom's brother, Albert Greenbaum of Muskegon. The bride and groom, during the ceremony stood on a beautiful white rug. The bride was dressed in a soft rich suit of cream white, draped in filmy lace. She wore a long tulle veil, and a coronet of cape jessamine, and also carried a bouquet of the same exquisite flowers. The jessamine were sent from Austin, Texas, by the aunt and uncle of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. A. Williams.

The maid of honor wore white and yellow broad satin and carried pink Marshmallow Nois roses. Miss Sadie Allen was dressed in pink and white and carried pink roses. Miss Greenbaum's dress was of white broad satin, and the soft folds were veiled in filmy lace. She carried a bouquet of white roses.

The house was beautifully decorated with rare plants and palms, ivies, ferns and pure white lilies. Soon after the congratulations following the ceremony, dinner was served in the family dining room. The table appointments were exquisite. At each place was a pure white cape jessamine on its stem of green foliage.

The bride's cake was decorated with maiden hair ferns and cape jessamine. Seventy-five guests were present at the evening reception, which was held from 8 o'clock to 11. During the dinner hour and the evening reception, harp music was played by De Massellis. The presents were numerous and costly.

Among the guests from out of town were Morris Bernstein, William Rosenberg and David Lang of New York city; Max Cohn of Chicago; Morris Markson of Big Rapids; Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Kistlick and Emanuel Lewenstein of Lansing. The bride and groom left on the train for Chicago, from where they will go east, returning to the city in about two weeks. They will be at home to their friends after June 10 at No. 23 Clinton street.

The engagement for the marriage of Miss Catherine Smith to Prof. Gerardus Vos of Princeton theological seminary is announced to take place during the summer vacation. Prof. Vos will be among the faculty of Princeton professors next year.

Wilton-Knapp.

One of the pretty weddings of the season was that performed on Thursday by the Rev. Mr. Moore, pastor of St. George's church, on St. Charles avenue, who united in marriage, St. Wilton of New Orleans and Miss Theodora Knapp of Grand Rapids, Michigan.

The charming young bride, the youngest daughter of the late Rev. Dr. Knapp, formerly pastor of St. George's church, was a debutante this winter and has been spending some months in the city. Mr. Wilton is a great favorite in society and a valued employee of the Southern Pacific Railroad company.

The church, which was crowded, was beautifully decorated with white roses and lilies by the friends of the young couple. The bride, who was crowned in white satin with bridal veil, carried a bouquet of sweet peas and maiden hair ferns. She entered the church leaning on the arm of the Rev. Dr. Waters, pastor of St. Paul's Episcopal church, and was preceded by the ushers, Messrs. Walter W. Janin, Henry Dancel, Hernandez and Dr. Wallace Wood. The marriage was performed according to the ritual of the English church, the groom and his best man, Ed Nathan, making the vows at the altar steps, where the betrothal took place. After the ceremony the bride and groom, and the bridesmaids of the family returned to the home of the bride and congratulated the happy couple, who left via the evening L. & N. train for St. Louis and the coast watering places. They will return in a few days and will be pleased to meet their many friends at their new home, No. 128 1/2 Marquette street at the corner of Coliseum—New Orleans Picayune.

KINDERGARTEN ANNUAL.

Review of the Interesting Meeting Held Thursday Night.

Wreathed in graceful vines and fragrant blossoms, the pictured face of the immortal Froebel smiled down upon a happy and prophetic scene in the parlors of the Fountain Street Baptist church last Thursday night. The occasion was the closing exercises of the year of the kindergarten training school of the city and the second anniversary of the kind in Grand Rapids.

Mrs. Treat did not use the terms "commencement day" or "graduating exercises," because she says "in this work we cannot graduate, but are always learning." A large audience witnessed the exercises, which typified an ideal kindergarten class, the young women in a graceful way representing the manner in which the children are taught to imitate the birds, bees and flowers in their games. These games are objective lessons and underlying each is a principle of truth and goodness that leads the children unconsciously into realms of wisdom, while at the same time, in a natural way, develops the symmetry of their bodies. Mrs. Treat explained the application of the exhibition, and also said that teaching was not unless it impressed the character of the child that the daily life and character were made better. Mrs. Emma Field told of her recent visit to the free kindergarten in the Italian districts of Buffalo, and she said among the 7,000 kindergarten children in San Francisco, but one had ever been arrested for law-breaking. The Rev. Dan Bradley spoke in favor of the teacher having a thorough training in order that she might make no mistakes in guiding the facile mind of the little one.

Mrs. Lydia C. Brown of the Waterloo street free kindergarten gave a highly interesting talk on the same general subject, and after a general session of the effect upon the mothers in the neighborhood. In fact, it was a miniature Hull house, and the proposition was suggested that the building now occupied would be beneficially accepted for that purpose, and a general session of the effect upon the mothers in the neighborhood. In fact, it was a miniature Hull house, and the proposition was suggested that the building now occupied would be beneficially accepted for that purpose, and a general session of the effect upon the mothers in the neighborhood.

The members of the first-year class are the Messrs. Grace Campbell, Max Castled, Mary Elliott, Julia Allen, Minnie Brown, Alleen Harrington, Elizabeth Hayon, Betsey Huggins, Ethel Huggins, Hattie Krause, Ida Mainger, Lon Simon, Amelia Peterson, Ophelia Satterlin, Bertha Satterlin, Florence Satterlin, and Miss C. Smith of Grand Rapids, and the Messrs. Christian Alton of Spring Lake, Blanche River of Albion, May Gordon of Hubert, Indiana, Alton Gilmore of Detroit, Carrie Hous of Vermont, Esther Robinson of Cedar Springs, Emily Warner of Volusia and Mrs. P. J. Knight of Oregon.

Unity Church.

The members and friends of Unity church met in the chapel of the Young Men's Christian association building last Wednesday evening to enjoy the sociability of the regular conference meeting and to transact important business. The regular program of the club was led by Mrs. C. S. Udell, the life of William Ellery Channing being the topic. The Hon. E. G. D. Holden gave an admirable exposition of the life of the great man, who, as Channing said, "had the love of wisdom and the wisdom of love."

Mrs. Udell also gave a brief and concise portrait of the character of Theodore Parker. Mr. Holden read a letter to the church which was just received from John J. May of Boston, a cousin of the illustrious Samuel J. May and a personal friend of Channing.

In the business session, the executive committee was authorized to engage the chapel of the association building for the use of the church until the summer vacation, and also to secure the services of the Rev. H. Digby Johnstone until that time.

Impartial Afternoon.

On Wednesday afternoon an unusually large attendance of the Political Equality club met with the president, Mrs. Mary G. Pearson, at her home at No. 111 East Bridge street. The president gave an article on the condition of Mormon women in Utah, giving notes from her own observation while there. She was followed by Mrs. J. H. Edson. Mrs. Edson presented a paper reporting the expedition of Elizabeth Wheeler and Andrew and Dr. Kate Bushnell, who were sent by the British parliament two years ago to inquire into the condition of the native women of India. Mrs. Edson gave a talk on "Progressive Women." Miss Dawn Hunter and Miss Edith Day played two piano solos, and Mrs. George Everhart favored the club with a beautiful song. General discussion and sociability prevailed, and the club was pleased to meet with Mrs. Pearson on June 7.

Helping Hand Society.

The Helping Hand society of St. Mark's church met on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. William Cartwright, No. 184 North Division street. This society, numbering twenty active members and as many honorary ones, meets at their different homes every Tuesday afternoon, for the purpose of doing such work as may be disposed of for the benefit of St. Mark's church and hospital. They take orders for fancy work and the like. They have recently paid $1,800 toward the moving of the organ into the chancel of the church, and they have furnished and keep in repair a room in the hospital containing eight beds. This is the sixteenth year of their organization. Mrs. J. Edward Earle is the president and Mrs. A. E. Worden secretary.

Boating Party.

On Thursday night Miss Edith Day of No. 542 Scribner street gave a moonlight boating party to twelve of her young friends. They met at her home and went to Reed's lake and enjoyed the pleasures of that resort until 10 o'clock when they returned to her home and were served to a supper. Music, cards and other games furnished pleasant entertainment. The party was given in honor of Dennis Crothers, who has recently graduated from business college and who left Friday night for his home at East Jordan. The names of the other invited guests are the Messrs. Dawn Hunter, Edith Finch, Ella Shannon, Gertrude Finch, Georgina Jaffe and Messrs. Edwin S. Brock, Fred Beigle and Walter Davis.

New Trains and Changes in Time.

Commencing May 29th, the following important changes in train service will be made on the Chicago & West Michigan railway. A new fast train, the "White City Flyer," will leave Grand Rapids at 7:15 a. m. every day, including Sunday, arriving at Chicago at 12:30 p. m. and stopping at Midway Plaisance right at main entrance to the world's fair grounds. A corresponding "flyer" will leave Chicago at 8:30 a. m. week days, arriving at Grand Rapids at 1:35 p. m.

The afternoon fast train at 1:35 from here will run as formerly week days, arriving at Chicago at 6:50 p. m. The afternoon train from Chicago will leave every day, including Sunday, at 5:35, arriving here at 10:55 p. m. making two fast day trains with Wagner parlor cars each way between Grand Rapids and Chicago, connecting with local trains at night train each way.

A slight change in time of the night train will be made, leaving Grand Rapids at 11:30 p. m. instead of 11:35, and leaving Chicago at 11:35 instead of 11:15.

With the new trains and changes in time, it will be possible for a person to leave Grand Rapids in the morning, have five hours in Chicago, and get back home the same evening.

THE STEAMBOAT SERVICE.

Between Grand Rapids and St. Joseph will commence running on May 29, in connection with Graham & Morton Transportation Co.'s line of steamers. They will leave here at 6:30 p. m. daily, except Saturday, connecting with boat arriving at Chicago in the morning. Returning boat will leave Chicago at 9:30 a. m., connecting with train arriving here at 5:25 p. m. The 1:25 p. m. train from here will connect with the day boat arriving at Chicago at 8 p. m. These are the only daily boats across Lake Michigan.

ON THE D. L. & N.

The only change is in the fast train, which will leave Grand Rapids at 1:45 p. m. every day, instead of 1:35.
